Polish Troops Occupy Three Italian Towns

By JAMES E. ROPER

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin Copyright, 1944, by British United Press ROME, Aug. 21—Polish troops of the Eighth Army, advancing swiftly north of the Cesano River in the Adriatic sector, overwhelmed enemy resistance in a wide area inland and occupied the towns of Mondavio, Serafini and Palerno yesterday, an Allied communique announced today.

As the Polish units gained in the east it was disclosed for the first time that the Brazilian expeditionary force under Maj. Gen. Moraes de Mascarenhas had joined the Allied Fifth Army in the area extending inland from the Tyrrhenian Sea south of Pisa.

Unconfirmed but apparently cor-rect reports said American tank patrols were cruising almost at will in the suburban Versaille area, only four miles from the outskirts of Paris, and British United Press war correspondent Robert C. Miller said other spearheads of Lt.-Gen. George S. Patton's army were lancing through the forest of Fontainebleau, 15 miles south of the city, Corbeil, 15 miles south of Paris, and Melun, 81/2 miles farther south, were reported to have been pene-trated by Patton's armored units. Other reports reaching Madrid from Vichy said American tanks and self-prorelled artillery had reached dominating hill positions in the western suburban towns of Muerdon and St. Cloud, the latter barely five miles from the heart of the city.

Miller reported only feeble Ger-man resistance in the Paris environs and other eyewitness accounts said equally weak opposition was en-countered along the Seine crossings, despite Nazi propaganda claims of fierce fighting for the Nantes bridgehead.

Canucks, Yanks in Special Assault Force Battled 60 Hours to Take Nazi-Held Isles

By CLINTON B. CONGER
Distributed by The Canadian Press
A SOUTHERN FRANCE BEACHHEAD, Aug. 18.—(Delayed)—After 60 hours of unbroken, sleepless combat, the final formation of Canadian and American specialist formations which reduced the islands of Levant and Port-Cros reached their rest area this morning.

These assault troops went into action against these islands off the coast south of Cap Negre 6½ hours before "H" hour last Tuesday morning.

The final formation came off Port-Cros where for more than two days after a premature message saying: "Island cleared," they fought ferociously with ridiculously light wea-pons to reduce three century-old forts whose walls withstood eight-inch naval guns in fanatic Nazi re-

RAPIDLY OVERRUN

The formation, commanded by Lt.-Col. J. F. R. Akehurst of Kirkland Lake and North Bay, Ont., hit Port-Cros at 1:30 a.m. Tuesday and rapidly overran the whole island, except for a high peninsula around the principal harbor of Port-Cros on the north side, without resistance. They took eight prisoners who had watched the entire rubber boat landing without firing a shot from

Then all hell broke loose from three strongpoints on the peninsula—an old chateau in the town of Port-Cros itself with towering walls, a most and a drawbridge, Fort De Lestissac farther north on the castle and Fort De L'Eminent, on the highest point of the island, half a mile inland. forts aided by Maquis.
With the Maquis operating with them the Canadian-American assault force came under steady defensive fire from the Germans defending the forts.

FIRE INTO SHRUBS

The enemy fired into the shrubs around the forest using mortars, rifles, grenades and machine-guns and an occasional shell from an old 75-mm, gun in Fort De L'Eminence.

In an area cleared of Maquis, conaisting of a 100-yard belt around each fort, German fire made day-light assault impossible. During the first night, according to the formation's executive officer, Maj. Albert Tate of Moose Jaw, Sask., it was hoped the Germans would surrender when they learned they were surrounded and cut off from the mainland, where German forces were too busy to aid them:

But daylight showed the enemy was determined to put up a stern-resistance behind defences devel-oped over a period of more than

On Wednesday the Chateau fell under a light assault by one platoon following bazooka and rifle grenade preparation. But the two forts rejected ultimatums. OTTAWA, Aug. 21 .- (CP)-A big strapping guy with a deceiving gentleness and a row of decorations got off a train here yesterday and told newsmen he did not think he'd have time to get back in the fighting over Europe because the Germans were fading too fast, but he hoped to see some service in the Pacific.

Canadians Take Motley Bag of Nazi Prisoners

WITH CANADIAN FORCES ON THE NORMANDY FRONT. Aug. 19 - (Delayed) - The road to St. Lambert-Sur-Dives southeast of Falaise is a jammed avenue of prisoners—many of them escorted, some of them not. Some are on foot, while others are driving their own vehicles— filled with loot from French homes-toward Canadian prison cages.

This is the final stage of the battle of Normandy, and it's a fan-tastic sight -, men surrendering without a fight, arrogant SS elite guardsmen breaking into tears before their captors and a few Nazis still attempting to break away to the east.

Today's motley bag included 20 stringy-whiskered Mongolians who, through some trick of war, found themselves manning machine-guns against Canadian soldiers.

As the parade of prisoners goes on, Allied artillery and aircraft continue to pound enemy transport a few miles ahead. No one here knows exactly what conditions are in the area the Germans still hold southeast of Falaise, but everyone is sure of one thing—the region must be an utter shambles.

SS troops are surrendering to the Canadians in almost parade ground condition. They're smart and clean —too clean to have done much fighting. A man who has just been through a battle for his life and freedom usually looks as if he had just come out of a sewer.

BURST INTO TEARS

One arrogant SS man, who had been manning a machine gun be-hind seven ordinary German infantry men in order to make them continue to fight, was finally cap-tured and, when told to stand be-side a wall, interpreted it as an indication he was to be shot.

Bursting into tears, he began pleading for his life. The tough Canadians who hate the SS men more intensely than I've ever seen an Allied soldier hate his enemy, con-temptuously sent the cringing super-man towards a prison cage, roaring with laughter at his tears.

Immigration

The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration has plans, presumably with the consent of the Canadian government, for settling some of the 12,000,000 homeless Europeans in this country. The Allied inter-governmental committee, we are told, has discussed the matter in some

If this is the case and if Canada is committed to the absorption of a large number of Europeans, it is time this country was getting down to the business of formulating an immigration policy somewhat more practical than those which have been employed hitherto.

One thing is certain. The Canadian people will never again tolerate an immigration plan that contemplates or permits a migrational flow of aliens into isolated communities or settlements of their own. They will tolerate no scheme that fails to impose upon the immigrant an obligation to learn English and speak it, to live and think as a Canadian and not as a backwardlooking stranger consumed by nostalgic fervor for his native land.

Immigrants must become Canadians. There is no place here for hyphenates.

There is no place here for settlers who insist upon living and reliving the life upon which they have turned their backs. There is no place for those who want to establish in Canada little isolated colonies of their countries of origin.

The trouble with most of our immigration policies is that they have ceased to function once the immigrant set foot on Canadian soil. The stranger is turned loose to fend for himself. Naturally, then, he groups himself into communities with his compatriots and endeavors to reproduce as far as possible the conditions and habits he is supposed to have left behind.

This is not good enough. The Canadian, people will not be satisfied with any immigration policy that fails to turn immigrants into real Canadians, in fact and practice and thought and language as well as name.

The industrious peoples of Europe can make a great contribution to this country. They have varied cultures and special skills that can enrich Canada. But they must employ those cultures and skills as Canadians, not as perpetual aliens.

Test of German Stamina

Presumably the German people now know the worst. Their Nazi leaders have broadcast to them that the Hun armies will be unable to hold France, that the next major stand will be on German soil.

There has been much talk about German stamina being unequal to the prospect of defeat. All the reagents and catalysts are now present in the Reich to test that belief. If German civilian morale is going to explode at all, it will explode within the next few weeks.

A revolt of the German people, of course, would be much different than the revolt of army officers. But even the officers' revolt has appreciably weakened the German position. A deterioration in Nazi generalship is quite evident in the reports from France which indicate a state of panic in Hitler's armies.

But a popular revolt, no matter how viciously combatted by the Gestapo, would be an entirely different thing. Workmen would lay down their tools. And the desperation engendered at home would spread throughout every part of Nazidom, including the army.

The next few days will be critical days not measured alone in our military successes, but in the reactions of the German

Mischievous Mr. Duplessis

With a show of flaming indignation, Premier-elect Duplessis of Quebec has de-manded of Ottawa the "rightful repre-sentation" in the House of Commons of his province.

Quebec, declares Mr. Duplessis, is being cheated because the western provinces have several more seats than they are entitled to hold.

No more conclusive evidence could be offered of the mischievous intent of Mr. Duplessis. For the charge, calculated to further inflame the resentment of French-Canadians over their fancied wrongs, has absolutely no basis in fact.

Under the British North America Act Quebec is permanently entitled to 65 seats in the House of Commons. All other provinces have representation on the basis of a fixed ratio to this figure. Every ten years, when the national census is taken, the number of federal seats in other provinces is adjusted according to the rise or fall of their population in relation to the population of Quebec. When the last census was taken in 1941, it was found that the populations of Manitoba and Saskatchewan had shrunk slightly and, under normal circumstances, this shrinkage would have necessitated a reduction of two or three seats. But the figure was very close to the prescribed line. Moreover, the population reduction was caused by army enlistments and the shift of war workers to eastern centres.

Since Quebec enlistments had not been proportionately heavy and since there had been no population shift in that province of war workers, it was held that the re-alignment of seats should not take place uath population adjustments had been completed after the war. It was a completely inevitable decision.

It is on such absurd grounds that Mr. Duplessis now endeavors to base another "wrong." Like most of Quebec's injuries, it is entirely fallacious. Only a small and mischievous mind would try to concoct a complaint out of it.

Improving His Time

Camillien Houde, former mayor of Montreal, arrived home from internment in gracious mood. He is ready to do anything, he said, to serve his country. He will accept any position to which his grateful countrymen are pleased to elect him. Even if he is called to be prime minister, he inferred, the sacrifice will not be too great. All that, of course, is exceedingly decent of him.

But it is not upon these facts that the news value of Camillien Houde's homecoming rests. It is upon his proud announcement that while he was in the cooler, rubbing elbows with all sorts and conditions of people, he managed to broaden his culture. He was actually able to acquire a knowledge of the German and Italian languages which, he said, he now speaks "well enough."

This, naturally, was very industrious and commendable of him. But one would have thought, with all this time hanging heavy on his hands, his talents might have turned in a more obvious direction.

He might have learned to understand, which he apparently hasn't, that he is not a popular hero but a deeply suspected man in the eyes of the people of Canada.

No Pin-Up Girls

There is distress in Penhold where the order has gone forth that alluring pictures of pin-up girls must be banished from the walls of the RAF. The official reason for this drastic move is that no student flyer can keep his mind on his studies when a row of seductive and lightly clad females smile toothily and eternally at him from the

To the claim that this display is distracting, the airmen make the reply that Solomon was surrounded by real flesh-andblood pin-up girls and yet he made quite a name for himself in history. He built temples, fought battles, enlarged the national trade and contributed heavily to deathless literature. And always there were four or five hundred cuties at his elbow.

The officers retort that General Sherman declared that "war is hell" and it is unbecoming an officer and a gentleman to make another officer and gentleman out

There are, we suppose, impressive arguments on both sides. Perhaps the best is this; that a good many earnest young souls preparing for combat might come to the conclusion that civilization is not worth saving if its highest expression is a brazen young hussy in a string of beads and a fan. Possibly it is just as well the pin-up girls came down.

Fighting in France

Troops of Second Division Taking Vengeance for Dieppe

By R. J. ANDERSON Canadian Press Staff Writer

The dead lie in bleak graves. The wounded hobble and grope. The prisoners are numbers, nameless men behind wire awaiting deliverance. But today, two years after, out of the heartbreak and shambles, the 2nd Canadian Division is wreaking vengeance for Dieppe.

"reconnaissance in force"—there could have been no invasion of France last June 6. That frontal attack on well-emplaced, fixed enemy fortifications proved many things: that hidden, heavy guns must be silenced by vertical assault; that given air cover, warships can approach close to any enemy beach; that beach wire and underwater obstructions can be breached. It was victory-at heavy price.

Of the 5,000 men of the 2nd Canadian Division who participated in the fierce, nine-hour assault on the cliff-girt resort town nestling on the English Channel Aug. 19, 1942 twothirds were casualties—3,350 dead, wounded, taken prisoner or missing. The Canadians were flanked by British commandos, American rangers and Fighting French units who also suffered heavily.

Stamp Competition Feature at Rimbey

RIMBEY-A War Savings Stamp ompetition was held in the Ponoka school division before school closed for holidays. The youngsters in the Rimbey district and particularly in the Rimbey school went to work. Under the direction of their work. Onder the direction of their teachers they sold stamps in the streets and in the homes. A superfluity shop that flourished for weeks was conducted by the Grades and 8 students. The grades 4 and 5 sold lemonade and other ice cold drinks on the main street.

The girls of this room made cookies and doughnuts and the Grades 2 and 3 won the pennant for the Rimbey sub-division of the school district. There were five of these subdivisions and the school selling the most stamps in that subdivision was the winner. Mrs. Bea-trice Kelly is the teacher of the grades two and three. Mrs. D. H. Kennedy's room came second.

A feature of the stamp sales camholders of lucky numbers were awarded five-dollar war savings certificates. Ex-students of the Rimbey high school now serving with the armed forces had their names entered in the contest and several of these were winners of

THAT the race in the Senior Baseball League is close may be gleaned from the fact that with only three games remaining, the playoff picture still is incomplete. And a win for Arrows against Yanks tomorrow night would defer the settling of the third place berth until the final day.

Yanks, with three in hand and a . game and a half margin over the Dodgers, have to win just one to remain in first place and secure the bye. But .Arrows who play Yanks twice, can draw even with U.S. Signals by taking Tuesday night's clash and thus retain a chance to finish in a tie with Signais, even should the latter club upset Yanks on Wednesday.

Yanks will have another go at Ladd Field tonight, the starting time being moved ahead to 6:30, or 15 minutes earlier than recent games. The Alaskans have a smart ball club, but Yanks are capable of playing a considerably brand than they did yesterday afternoon, and so may be able to salvage one of the series of three.

WEBSTER REALLY HOT YANKS never had a chance

against Neil Webster and his one-hitter on Saturday night. The big fellow who pitched for Decatur the Three Eye League had plenty of swift and really poured them in. His control was good too excepting the third when he hit Pete Meyers and Gino Valenti, first two up and then couldn't get them over for Al Goodrich and filled the bases.

But although Webster may have stolen the pitching spotlight, Ralph Schumacher was right up in the front row in fielding. The Yank key-stone sacker had a total of 12 chances-six putouts and six assists-without a slip, a record which will take some heading off. Valenti was the only Yank not to become a strikeout

Walter Nelson, apparently with little more than good intentions, proved unable to hold the Ladd Field sluggers yesterday. Nelson quite a swat. Believe It Or Not One-Hitter By Webster On Saturday

DODGERS defeated U.S. Signals 7-3 in the formers Senior Baseball League schedulel fixture, while Ladd Field made it two straight over Yanks by taking a 4-2 seveninning decision in the second half of Sunday's doubleheader attraction which was viewed by a crowd of over 6,500.

The Fairbanks nine shut out Yanks on Saturday night as Neil Webster, former pitcher for Decatur, III., in the Three Eye League and later sold to Columbut, Ohio, of the American Association, turned in a sparkling one-hit performance. A single by Doug Roush, in the sixth inning cheated the Ladd Field chucker of a perfect game.

It was Eddie Williams' two-run single in the ninth with the bases all cluttered up and the score tied at 3-3 which eventually settled the Dodger-Signal affair. George Green had opened that frame by flying out to Schiiser in centre and then Ab Superstein walked only to be thrown out-Araps to Dombrow ski-trying to steal second.

Ralph Morgan, who had already hit a triple-probably the longest one ever made in Renfrewslashed a single into centre field and went to third when Doug Stevenson smacked a hard one past third into left field. "Lefty" Riley was ordered to purposely pass Mel Ottem, but Williams crossed up the Signallers' board of strategy by slapping the ball into centre, sending home both Morgan and Steven-Araps' error on the throwin.

TO GET PAST SECOND

Webster had the Yanks completely handcuffed and was in diffi-culty only a couples of times in marking up his 2-0 shut-out on Saturday night.

Pete Meyers was the only Yank to reach third and he made the hot corner in both the second and fourth stanzas, with one down in each case, but there he remained. Just 15 men faced Webster in the last five innings. Al Walker pitched a fairly effective game, limiting Ladd Field to five hits, two of them coming in the eighth. However he walked five struck out five to his opponents' 10. Webster hit Meyers and Gino Valenti, first Yanks to face him in the second and Ralph Schumacher advanced both by a sacrifice. Al Goodrich walked filling the bases, but Webster struck out Walker and Everything appeared on the bright side for Leo at the end of the morning's 18 holes when he boasted a four under par 68, hottest round of the tourney, and a goodly margin of five over Mel-drum—his friends call him "Joe". Joe was closest to LeClair at the half way mark and Jim Halliday, Municipal club champion was next with a 77.

These three teed off together for the second round in the afternoon. Meldrum had two lost balls on an unlucky third hole of the second 18 and went to a nine on a par five green, which sent his total sky-high. green, which sent his total sky-high. This would have taken the hopes out of most golfers, but not Joe. He stuck right in there and made a remarkable recovery to cut the margin between him and LeClair to a pair of strokes by the end of the 35th.

"I am most optimistic about the auccess of the coming conference," he told reporters at national airport where his plane, marked with the red star of Soviet military forces, brought him and his delegation in to a military reception.

OPTIMISM SHARED His optimism is shared by both the undersecretary of state. Ed-ward R. Stettinius, the United States delegate, and Sir Alexander C2-ogan, the British representative, who arrived a week ago. But it is potentially more significant because it apparently means that Gromyko knows of no points in Soviet world security plans on which there cannot be agreement with Britain, the United States and China.

Dr. Wellington Koo, the Chinese other week, He will meet Mr. Stet-tinius and Sir Alexander when they conclude their talks with

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21-(AP) These are the main points in plans for establishment of a world security organization on which the United States, Britain and Russia appear to agree as they go into conference at Dumbarton Oaks

1. An executive council, including the Big Four - Russia, Britain, China and the United States. 2 A United Nations assembly

3. A world court.
4. Machinery for mediation and conciliation of disputes not subject to legal decisions. MAINTAIN FORCE

5. Provision for maintenance of adequate force to restrain aggression and speedy use of force when such a decision is taken.

6. A measure of regional respons ibility for keeping peace under the world organization.
7. Separation of war-end problems, such as definition of bound-aries, from the establishment of the 8. Primary responsibility for enforcing peace to rest upon the large powers which have the force available. Britain and the United States are also anxious that the small powers play an appropriate role and have their say. Russia's view on this point is not yet clear.

REALLY SWEATING

Strange Coincidence at Hospital

Parenthood Proves Hectic for Scribe

As the Stork Makes Deliveries

If the name had been Smith, or Jones, preceded in each case, respectively, with the names William, or John, it might have passed unnoticed.

But, it was an uncommon Christian name, as well as an almost uncommon surname, like the writer's, which caused a stir in University hospital—and in the maternity ward, at that.

Just a week ago, the writer was ushered into parenthood with the arrival of a five-pound bundle which was named Judith. Not unlike all new paters, I haunted the maternity ward generally, and the nursery in particular, daily. Daily, that is, until Friday.

"BABY BARKER"

On that day, as Judith was wheeled into view, a strange voice asked to see "Baby Barker." A nurse, head out of the nursery door, nodded in my direction.

"I want to see Graham Barker's baby. It was born today, and Dr.

attended," said the strange

"Lady," I spoke up, unable to control myself any longer, "I am Graham Barker. This is my baby. She was born Monday, and Dr. did attend."

"Baby Barker is a boy weighing . . ." began the other.
"Baby Barker is a girl," I corrected. By this time, the nurse had locat-a crib and wheeled it to the window. The stranger clucked con-tentedly, while I felt as if someone was pulling my leg-my sore one. TWO "MRS. BARKERS"

About two minutes later I discovered, with a shiver, that my leg wasn't being pulled, and that there' was not one, but two, persons, each of whom called herself Mrs. Graham Barker.

Forgetting parents, and becoming once again a reporter, I went off to seek an interview with one Mrs. Graham Barker, neglecting to re-turn to the other Mrs. Graham Barker (the latter being responsible for my presence there. Oh, what am I saying?) Mrs. Barker — Mrs. Graham O. Barker, I found, was a blonde young woman, wife of a member of the RCAF, and mother of a boy weighing nine pounds four ounces; the other Mrs. Barker— Mrs. Graham F. Barker, is brunette, wife of an army reject, and mother of Judith, weight five pounds four ounces.

Graham O. Barker, now stationed at MacLeod, was born in Edmonton in June, 1922, and attended Garneau school before joining the services in 1941, said Mrs. Barker, A friend of his, and one who enjoyed chasing a puck around the ice previous to joining the RCAF, also, had an

Miss Pinkowski was injured when autos driven by Patrick Sereda, 9651 107 avenue, and Albert Sherwin, 9638 109A avenue, collided, causing the first-named car to swing about and then continuing for about 63 feet before coming to rest against the wall of the store operated by Clara Mraz, 10870 96 street. Wall of the building on one side was said by police to have been pushed inwards between two and three inches.

According to police Sereda said he had attempted to get out of the way of the other auto but was struck on one side. The car turned completely around and then continued for 21 paces before coming to a stop upon hitting the side of the store. Sherwin, it was reported, said he had believed Sereda would stop before entering the intersection. He applied his brakes but could not stop his car in time to avoid the collision. exceptional name. He Should Try to Get Qualities He Wants and Needs In a Woman; Should Not Just Pick a Woman for Looks or Clothes

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: What who are still here so we go qualities should a young man look for in picking out a wife? Can a man teach his wife to be thrifty our enjoying ourselves and we after marriage even though she was not thrifty before marriage? B. B. R.

ANSWER: Before a man marries he should take stock of himself as well as the girl and decide what qualities he wants and is going to eed in a wife, and then try to see that he gets them.

Most men don't do this. Every day we see poor men, earning small salaries, who marry girls who have nothing but pretty faces to recommend them, which is just as silly as if they put everything they possessed or ever expected to have in a fancy automobile, when what they needed was a serviceable truck.

So be sure of what you need in a wife when you go looking the missionary work but you are sure girls over. If I were a young man to be misjudged. Especially by simple-to-sew Pattern 4813. AIR "VISITORS"

LONDON. - (CP) - There have been so many "sight-seer" visitors to Normandy that a rule has now been put into effect that no RAF plane from Britain can put down on a landing strip in Normandy without special permission. If they do they are "confiscated" and the fliers brought back to England by sea where disciplinary action is taken. Similar steps have been taken by the army and navy against unauthorized visits.

In All Emergencies

Dependents of Servicemen Aided by Special Board

By HELEN BANNERMAN

OTTAWA, Aug. 21 .- (CP) - Little sister of the milliondollar-a-day Dependents' Allowance Board-government agency which cares for Pte. Johnny Canuck's next-of-kin while he is overseas—is the $240,000-a-month dependents' board of trustees which helps servicemen's dependents over the hump of almost any kind of emergency.

Red Commander

Gen. Ivan Chernyakhovsky, commander of the Third Belorussian Front, led first Red forces into Germany proper when he cross-ed the border of East Prussia, land of the Junkers estates. East Prussia is threatened with isolation by Russian troops smashing to the coast—to the south through Warsaw and to the north through Lithuania.

Urge Institute Of Journalism In Dominion

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21,-(CP)-The silver jubilee convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association wound up late Saturday with more than 300 editors urging establishment in Canada of an institute of journalism.

George Murray of the Alaskan Highways News, Fort St. John, B.C., mover of the resolution said the institute's aim should be to place journalism on a similar footing to the medical and legal professions, a code of ethics governing all edi-torial workers should be drawn up and schools of journalism established throughout the country. TO BE CONSIDERED

The resolution, seconded by Hugh past-president, will be turned over to the new board of directors for consideration.

The convention also adopted a resolution stating advertising agen-cies be paid 15 per cent instead of the 25 per cent commission of former years.

The Powell River Town Crier, published by Al Alsgard, won the "Golden Ideas" competition, an award in recognition of methods for improving industry. The Town Crier also was judged the best all-round paper in Class 2 weeklies with a circulation under 2,000 but more than 1,000.

Judged individually for there is no set grant for a given type of case. The supplementary grants fund, which the board administers. is limited only by the size of the federal treasury, but to date the largest amount given to one persen has been $2,000 for a complicated emergency operation.

"Eighty-five per cent. of our re quests for assistance are for illness but we are used just as much for advice as for financial aid," said Jack Pembroke, chairman of the nine-man board. "Our people have given tips on everything from how to raise children to how to trace a prisoner-of-war."

ESTABLISHED IN 1942

The board was established in January, 1942, under the defence department. Mrs. Catherine Collier of Bracken, Sask., is a member.

The board is not concerned with charity for with loans, but with outright grants to dependents of servicemen below the rank of warrant officer (first class), for medical expenses, funerals, loss of possessions through fire or other disaster.

A dependent's request goes to one of the board's 22 regional committees—21 across Ganada and one in London—where it is investigated individually by local welfare workers. The committee may then vote up to $35, but cases of greater need are passed to the board itself.

"In cases where we have to work fast we generally make all arrangements by telephone," said Mr. Pem

Gestapo Men Terror-Stricken

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Members of the vaunted German gestapo were pictured as terror-stricken men cringing with fear after their capture by conquering Maquis forces in Eastern France, in a report last night by CBS Correspondent Howard K. Smith.

In a dispatch relayed to New York by way of Switzerland, Smith said he and his wife had just completed "a four-day tour of conquest with the French people's own army of liberation" behind the German lines.

Describing a courtyard scene in Annecy, where the Maquis had herded together eight of the gestapo, Smith said one of the Nasis fell to his knees "and begged my wife to save him."

"They chinged with fear," Smith said. "They distinctly shuddered at our approach. At first their lips shook so they could hard speak."

McCoy Health Service

Lima beans and lentils are inexpensive foods which are often used by those who are looking for something in the diet which will provide an abundance of food matrials at low cost. While such foods indeed supply a great deal of nour-ishment I find that their use should e restricted to those in good health having the digestive power equal to the task of handling them.

One of the important things to know about the dried lima beans is that they are sikaline forming. Those who are trying to balance the use of the acid forming foods by taking others which are in the alkaline forming froup, will be ap-preciative of this fact.

Here's what you need for summer entertaining of 10 guests at a Sunday buffet party.

FROSTY HALIBUT TURBOTS (Serves 10)

Ten halibut or perch fillets (fresh or frosted), 1 quart water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon pickling spices, prepared ent body to govern both CBC and mustard, minced parsley or watercress or chives. Roll fillets and fasten with tooth picks. Measure water, vinegar, salt, spices into saucepan. Bring to boil; turn heat low and in this, place the rolled fillets. Simmer gently 15 to 25 minutes, until fish is cooked through. Drain. Chill. Spread each rolled fillet with prepared mustard dust over with minced parsley, wat ercress or chives. Serve on platter with vegetable and potato salad.

BLUEBERRY MUFFINS (Serves 10)

Five cups flour, 7 teaspoons bak ing powder, 2 teaspoons salt, ½ cup sugar, 2 cups blueberries, 4 eggs, 4 cups milk, 4 cup butter, melted. Sift dry ingredients; add the blueberries and mix lightly. Beat the eggs to lightness, add the milk. Add milk to flour, mixing just long enough to dampen the flour-overbeating makes tunnels in muffins lumps in batter will disappear dur-ing baking. Add the butter, melted, saving out 2 tablespoons for greas ing the muffin tins. Fill greased muffin tins 2-3 full. Bake in mod erate oven (350 degrees F), 20 to 25 minutes until well baked through. To reheat for serving, place in brown paper bags, twist ends to-gether and reheat in moderate

FM Broadcast Will Be Here After Victory

Dreams of television and frequency modulation broadcasting will definitely come true after the war, Gordon Henry, manager of radio station CJCA, told members of Edmonton Kiwanis stub when he addressed their luncheon meeting in the Macdonald hotel Monday. broadcasting will be slow," he forecast, "and we will have to con-tinue it along with the frequency modulation until the majority of listeners have new receiving sets."
He pointed out that television and frequency moduation broad-casting, which gives a static free reception, is only effective in about a 20 miles area and that feeder stations will have to be installed. While radio has gone into the news field in recent years, Mr. Henry said it could do no more than whet listeners' appetites for further details which they would have to obtain from newspapers. The speaker gave an outline of radio industry history and pointed out set-ups in different countries.

"Britain has government controlled radio, United States has entirely privately-owned broadcombination of the two. In my opinion freedom of radio is as important as freedom of speech and freedom of the press," he said. "We are trying to see to it that this is maintained."

He said the CBC had to rely on private radio to form its networks and added that the privately-owned industry was working for three main objectives; first, an independ private radio; second, that the sec-ond Canadian network should be controlled by private radio in com-petition with the government network; and third, power increases for the stations.

road installations except bridges are back in shape in the Pambinafloods in the area, according to Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works. While "not too many" bridges were wrecked by high water, steel span structures at Jarvie and Sangudo were toppied over by the flood and are now replaced by temporary ferries. Steel work of these two bridges is salvageable, Mr. Fallow said. So great was rush of water when the Jarvie bridge went out, two of its spans were deposited four and six miles downstream from the piers.

Bridge repairs are still held up in many instances by high water, some structures being completely inaccessible from either end. Until the rivers recede to normal level, repair crews will not be able to aspect and make repairs to abutments, piling and superstructure.

Hardest hit in the floods were ferries, all of which along the two watercourses went out in high water. Cables, towers and complete installations were swept away, the flood in some cases completely covering tops of cable towers.

Material and equipment necesary to repair bridge damage is now assembled and waiting for re-The work will go ahead despite veather conditions, as an early reeze-up would not affect bridge onstruction but in many cases would be a help. To Sign Agreement

LONDON, Aug. 21.—(CP-Reuter) -The French commissioner for for eign affairs in the Algiers committee, Rene Massigli, arrived at a British airport from Algeirs today. He is expected to sign the Franco-British civil affairs agreement with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden at the foreign office tomorrow.

Cattle 350, calves 126, hogs $\mathbb{m}$, sheep I. There was a decided improvement in the cattle market this morning. Prices generally strong to 25c per hundred weight higher with grading more lenient on all killing classes. Receipts are light, resulting in a strong demand. Farmers are advised, however, to market only cattle carrying a reasonable degree of finish or better. Any influx of thin cattle may weaken the situation. Stockers and feeders of first quality under fair demand, but light weights $11-$12. $15.30; Bit $15.30; sows, live weight $8.75; dressed, $11: feeders, $12-$16; according to weight and quality. Lambs steady; good to choice handy weights, $11-$11.50; tops, off cars. $11.75; year-lings mostly from $6$ down, and good light ewes $5 down.

CATTLE—

Good-choice fed calves $11.00 to 11.50, Good-choice steers $0.00 to 10.50. Fair-medium steers $0.00 to 10.50. Fair-medium steers $0.00 to 8.00, Good-choice light cows $7.00 to 7.50. Fair-medium cows $1.75 to 6.25. Bulls $0.00 to $1.50. Fair-medium cows $1.75 to 6.25. Bulls $0.00 to $1.50. Fair-medium cows $1.75 to 6.25. Bulls $0.00 to $1.50.
